Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Why do I need this AP[®] Unit? I thought College Board was providing all the materials?

A: College Board is just providing the framework, case studies, and the two required projects. I am providing you with the daily lessons to teach the business and personal finance concepts.

Q: Are these lessons PowerPoints with guided notes?

A: No, my AP[®] course is not death by PowerPoint! These are interactive lessons that you can use multiple ways. Yes, you can present them using teacher-led instruction, if you choose. You can also use them for independent work and/or student-led instruction. Students respond right in the slides using their critical thinking and analytical skills.
